The Korean King Stands in With Japan.

A New Day Has Apparently Dawned for the Hermit King-

China's Suzerainty Benounced and New Cabinet Appointed—The Strategical and Tactical Developments.

ssociated Press Leased-wire Service.
YOKOHAMA, Aug. 23.—(Correspondence Associated Press, Copyright, 1894, Wired from San Francisco, Sept. 6.) Since the last dispatch of news to America, circumstances have occurred which throw much light on the long-disputed question as to which side in the war is favored by the King of Korea. The lower classes in that country have no opinions on political subjects. If the middle class have any, they are not allowed to express them. Even the aristocracy have learned the necessity of keeping silence, if their views are opp to those of the governing body. The only voice bitherto heard has been that of the ministry, a corrupt oligarchy composed of the Mings family and their dependents, who are completely under the control of China. It has been to their interest to represent that the sovereign was heartily in accord with them, and, until within the past few weeks their assurances to this effect have been generally accepted as the Mings, is undoubtedly under the in-fluence of China, and, as she is understood tellect and force of character, her power easily credited. That the Mings acted re ally in the King's name, and with his san tion, was not seriously questioned up to the time when the Chinese diplomatic the court free from surveillancs. Ther the Japanese envoy received a message from the King's father suggesting that it an interview could be arranged in the palace, his son could be induced to recognize the justice and friendliness of Japan's instentions without much difficulty. The King's father, officially known as Tal-Won-Kun, was at one period the regent of the country, but through the intrigues of the Mings he was deposed some ten years ago and condemned to a long capityity. After ing the sovereign.

The Japanese envoy at once insisted upon meeting the monarch personally and under conditions that should enable him to speak his mind without restraint. Bedenied this privilege by the royal advisers, he determined to present him-self with an armed escort, and sent for self with an armed escort, and sent for a detachment from the Japanese forces outside the city. As this small guard passed by the palace, on the way to the envoy's residence, it was fired upon by Korean soldiers in the service of the Mings. These shots settled the fate of the ministry. The native troops were dispersed with scarcely a struggle, and an hour later the representative of Japan was in amicable conversation with the sovereign, who did not hesitate to detied with the State on the stumps show that over 7,000,000 feet. Our scale of the stumps show that over 7,000,000 feet were actually cut, and the true figure is probably 9,000,000 feet. This is a sample case. After it was cut, an employee was instructed to burn it over and make a clean job of it. Our report to the next Legislature will open their eyes to corruption in high places that they had not dreamed of. We shall not deal in glittering generalities, but in cold, hard facts."

SPECIAL AGENTS.

Mings. These snots settled the painistry. The native troops were dispersed with scarcely a struggle, and an hour later the representative of Japan was in amicable conversation with the sovereign, who did not hesitate to declare that he had been under coercion ever since the beginning of the limbrogilo with China, and that he was far from feeling the hostility toward Japan which his government had publicly attributed to him. In token of his late council, and had summoned the Tai-Won-Kun to assist him in forming a new ad

Before the day was over, a cabinet, madup of radical opponents of the Ming fac-tion, had been installed, with the Tai-Won-Kun as Prime Minister, and a committee of seventeen was appointed to re recommended by Japan. Such activity and energy had never before been witnessed since the foundations of the Korean mon-arch were laid. The extraordinary promptnees of the King in assenting continuous forward by the Japan-envoy might bave laid him open to suspicion of seeking merely to con animosity by unconditional submission, but for the discovery of an action on his part, entirely inconsistent with any secret sentiment of ill-will. As soon as the out-going cabinet had left the palace, and without waiting to consult his new coun-cil, he called together the commanders of the few troops remaining at his dis-posal, and ordered them instantly to join the Japanese army, on the way to attack the Chinese at Asan. He was not instigated to do this by anybody. No one exsurprised than the Japanese representa tive when he heard of it.

To suppose that the King was actuated by motives of policy would be to credit him with a sagacity which he certainly does not possess. The universal belief in his lack of spirit and eleverness seems to does not possess. The universal belief in his lack of spirit and cleverness seems to be well-founded. His demonstration is explained rather as signifying his delight at being relieved from an irksome restraint, and his determination to "get even" in some way with the men who had kept him for years in leading strings. But it effectually disposes of the old stories that he had nothing but hatred for Japan and would resist to the utmost every attempt of that empire to establish its influence in the peninsula. Since the day that he came in contact with the envoy he has shown every disposition to co-operate, so far as he is able, with the movements for Korea's regeneration. When the Japanese army returned victorious to Seoul, bringing with them the captured armise and standards, he sent a deputy especially to welcome and congratulate them. He has appointed a commisioner to visit Japan and thank the Emperor for the promise of peace and a stable government to his country, and he has formally renounced the suzerainty of China, and proclaimed his intention to assert his independence and equality in all cuture dealings with that nation. Unless Japan fails utterly in the war, the variators of the nart will and equality in all future desauge with that nation. Unless Japan fails atterly in the war, the vassalage of the past will never be renewed.

The political and eocial reforms which Japan demands are designed not only to prevent China from intentering hereafter, but also to give the whole people of Korea opportunity and power to improve their condition, and to prepare the country for the introduction of western civilization. Some of them have already been decreed and put in force. These are: The adoption of a new royal title which, though still meaning king in English, shall carry with it no signification of inferiority to a higher monarch, as was previously the case; the establishment of a 'thorough diplomatic service under which ministers shall be sent to all treaty States; the eligibility to office of all classes, without distinction of rank; restriction upon public expenditures and periodical announcement of revenues and disbursements: reduction expenditures and periodical announcement of revenues and disbursements; reduction in the number of national employees, ab-solute freedom of religion; abolition of alayery and all kinds of enforced labor; prohibition of cruel or excessive punishnents; immediate abrogation of the law permitting the punishment of the entire amily of a criminal, however innocent, and authorization of widows to remarry and of all persons to marry according to their choice, without parental compulsion Other reforms are under consideration, and

The policy of China in all wars has been to play a waiting game and to suffer a ceptain amount of injury without retalia-tion, in the hope of exhausting the enemy. With this view, although her navy is much superior to that of Japan, she withmuch superior to that of Japan, she with-drew all her ships from the open sea, im-mediately after the first blow had been struck in the Bay of Asan, and remained secluded in strongly forfined stations like Fort Arthur and Wei-Hai-Wei. But even in these retreats, the fleets are a constant menace to Japan, and an expedition was planned on August 7 for an advance upon Wei-Hai-Wei, near Che-Foo, where it was supposed a large squadron was lying in leved that many of the enemy had time to escape, nor was it thought they would wish to avoid a contest, being greatly in the majority. An attack with torpedoes was prepared, but when daylight came, no se vessels were in sight. They had all flown to another resort. A few shots were exchanged with the forts, but as the movement contemplated no engagement with batteries on shore, the Japanese fleet returned to the coast of Korea. A freet returned to the coast of Korea. A visit to Port Arthur was debated, but not approved, owing to the fact that the harbor is accessible only through passages; known to be thickly atreen with torpedoes. While the lepason are stilling to take reasonable risks, they are not warranted in unduly hararding the safety of their ships. In this sum of the service they are so cutnumbered that any serious doss would cripple them, and perhaps endanger their communications. They will take almost any odds in open waters, but will their communications. They will take al-most any odds in open waters, but will not rashly throw themselves upon tor-pedoes, or expose themselves needlessly to heavy land fortifications.

The Japanese government has taken all long to guard Chinese residents against molestation or annoyance. An imperial decree guaranteeing their security was issued early this month and orders for their protection have been sent all over the empire. In China a different state of things exists. The shops of merchants are broken open, their contents pillaged and the dwners beaten and maimed. every port stories of robbery and violence mitted upon private citizens alone. When the Japanese Consul at Tien-Tsin left that town, he embarked with his family upon a British steamer for Shanghai. This ship was invaded, not by a mob, but by a force of Chinese soldier These seized not only the men of the party, but also the ladies and their temale attendants, and carried them and their baggage to their barracks, some distance way, where they were detained all night. The ladies were roughly handled, ornaments being torn from their hair. No explanation or excuse was given, when the Li-Hung-Chang, to say that, on learning the facts from the United States Minister, to whom Japanese interests in China are at present confided, he declared his regret and promised that restitution should be made and punishment inflicted on the aggressors. It is supposed that he was partly influenced by the representatives of the Chinese envoy lately in Tokio, who, before quitting his post, telegraphed to Peking an account of the measures taken ection of Chinese

The civil service of that coun-try allows great latitude to every incumbent, but his responsibility is as extrem. his superiors, he is doomed. In this case, Yuan was merel step taken by him was in pursuance of the viceroy's commands. But when the catas-trophe came, and Yuan took refuge in Tien-Tsin, all the blame was thrown upon his shoulders. For two weeks his place of was unknown, and yesterday a report of his death was circulated, pre sumably due to suicide.

Even the great viceroy, the foremost countability for the capture of one Chi-ness ship of war, and the abandonment of another, in the fight near Asan. He has been deprived of one of his highest deco-rations, and commissioners have been sent by the Taung-Li-Yamen to watch his pro-ceedings and report to the central govern-ment. This last step is believed to have been taken in consequence of Li's tardiness in forwarding bad news to the capital. Though the sea-flat took place. Lily. 25. In forwarding bad news to the capital. Though the sea-fight took place July-25, he sent no report of it till August 17, and then said nothing about the loss of the warships, recounting only the sinking of the Kow-Shung, with a large number of throops. In spite of Li's prestige and rank, he is liable to capital punishment if the Chinese forces undergo many disasters.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 6 .- Tonight the flag of honor floats ever the track of the Indianspolis Driving Club, and the sun of Terre Haute and Fort Wayne has been eclipsed. Robert J., the great son of Hartford, reigns supreme as king of the turf, and the pennant waves above his stall at the State Fair Grounds.

The match pace for a purse of $5000 be tween Robert J. and Joe Patchen was ex pected to bring out some phenomenal sport, but not one of the 19,000 people was prepared for the terrible slashing of records that began with the word "go" from the stand by Starter Wather at 3:50 o'clock. The day was all that could have been desired, and the track was perfect All the necessary elements were present which enter into the production of great speed. The light rains of the thirty hours previous had been absorbed by the yielding earth, and forces of men under the direction of the superintendent had been at work constantly since. Nothing had been omitted, and when the final moment came not a member of the associations, but who was confident with the condition of the track, no blame could be attached to them if no records were made.

The heats of the previous races passed over in haste, and the crowd had become somewhat impatient, when Starter Walker advanced to the front of the stand and announced the race between Jos Petchen and Robert J. would be the next feature of the programme. "Look out for records. Both of these horses are in the best possible sondition, and Jack Curry has promised to give the little herse the race of his life," he said.

At the stables of the fiyers all was confusion as the final touches were put on the preparation of the horses for the great contest for blood. Geers had heard of the onen house of Curry and hear collections.

open boast of Curry, and had replied in his peculiar way: "Is that so? Well, old boy, we'll have to go some, won't we?" and he patted the little wonder on the neck in an affectionate manner. At the same moment that Starter Walker had made the announcement to the crowd, the masses of humanity at the gate parted, and from the breach appeared ipon the track the two horses. A mighty cheer went up as Geers and Curry drove quietly down in front of the amphitheater and jogged to the turn. The crowd became breathless as the horses came together and pulled out for a little warming up and lown the stretch.

Five minutes later they halted a moment before the stand, the last touches were administered to both horses, every strap and huckle was closely inspected, and the two swept down the track for the word. Both rs settled themselves firmly in their drivers settled themselves firmly in their seats and neither looked at the other. They were in no humor for jesting. There was a determined and set expression upon the face of such. Curry was resolved to give the brown horse the greatest and hottest race of his life, but Geers was quite as confident that he would pull out just enough to keep ahead. He knew the hu-mor of his horse, and his heart never trembled.

victims were released, nor were the valu-solts restored. It is due to the Viceroy, the start when the brown and black gave great leaps forward and shot down to the stand at a terrific pace. Both drivers held back, and Patchen was rendered by the lines. Walker saw the situation and called them back. The second start was a success. Both horses were at their stride, and less than a neck apart. Down the track they came at a terrible pace, with perfect motion and even stride.

"Go!" yelled Walker, leaning far over the railing of the stand, and the crowd rose as one man.

Around the turn the two rivals shot, and at the quarter 31½s was announced. It was as though the two great horses were being impelled by some unsten force, as the movement of their legs on the backstretch could not be seen. At the half 1:02½ was called out, and the crowd cheered. Still the two horses remained together. Curry hanging stubborfly at together, Curry hanging stubbornly at Geers's wheel. The latter turned his head slightly and seemed to be studying his chances. He saw the situation at a glance. He was in the race of his life, with an op-ponent that was worthy of his steel. He forged ahead a nose as the two swept into the turn, and there was a slight check noticeable as the last curve was being cut down. Both drivers gathered their reins for the stretch, and 1:34 at the three-quarters was yelled from the stand.

Then began the race for home. Curry spoke to the handsome black, and Patchen responded by straining every muscle. The great horse seemed to recognize that this was the moment when he could revenge himself for former defeats. He came up to even terms, and, with distended neck and flaming nostrils, thundered along at the little brown's side. It was a surprise to the little wonder himself, who was unaccustomed to having a horse at his side on that part of the track. He shook his head angrily, and attempted to draw away, but Geers held him with a steady hand. It was not yet the moment for the hast great effort. He allowed the black to retain his place, and the two rushed down the track at a mad pace. Some one in the crawd velled in trumph as he in the crawd yelled in triumph, as he saw the world's record in danger, and Starter Walker called out for silence until after the horses had passed the wire.

Up they came like a whirlwind and left the crowd in uncertainty as to the victor. Geers spoke to Robert J. and Curry made a low exclamation of encouragement to a black. Both understood and responds The little brown seemed to be surprise at the audacity of his big rival, and as dashed under the wire, struck out his n and, with a mighty stride, gained a ne and, with a unignly strice, gained a nose, and the crowd yelled itself hourse. A moment later, when 2:03% was hung up, a great wave of extravagant delight dashed across the amphitheater, and the air trembled as the great roar of triumph went of the result of the result of the result. up. Terre Haute, the rival, had been passed and Fort Wayne was excelled. second heat was to come, but it was con-fidently said the great heat had passed, and some left for home. It was the general impression that both horses had dons their best, and slow time was called for. Regret was freely expressed that the heat had not been a quarter of a second fastor.

faster. Forty-five minutes later the track was again cleared, and the two horses came out. It was now realized that the track was faster, and both horses in the very was faster, and both horses in the very pink of condition. Not only this, but Curry was proving that his boast was not an idle one, and that he was giving Geers his greatest race. The latter seemed to be somewhat surprised, and he and Hamlin,

Like twin rockets, they shot from under the wire and started on the trip Like twin rockets, they shot from the wire and started on the trip around the turn that was to bring glory and fame. Robert J. went right to the front, moving like a piece of mechan-ism. At the quarter he led the big fellow by two lengths. Joe Patchen closed up the gap, going down the back stretch, by two lengths. Joe Patchen closed up the gap, going down the back stretch, and was hanging to the little brown's wheel at the half, which was reached in 1:02%. Patchen moved out a little me and was well alongside Robert J. at three quarters. This was reached 1:301/2; and it was realized a break, even the fast ma vious heat was to be place

On came the great gladiators am On came the great gladators smoothly. Oursy was nigging the big fellow and Geers, with faith in Little Robert J., let bim out, and he moved away from the black at the distance-stand with a mighty burst of speed and passed under the wire two open lengths in front of his determined competitor, in 2:02½. Patchen was marked 2.02%. The arrow could not contain it. 2:02%. The erowd could not contain its pent-up enthusiasm longer than to see the pent-up enthusiasm longer than to see the lose of King Robert J. pushed under the wire. One long cheer burst forth and continued until Starter Walker announced the retary Graves proposed three cheers for Mr. Hamkin, which were given with a will, and the famous turfman responded grace-fully to the compliment. Geers was also similarly complimented, as were Curry, the driver, and Taylor, the owner

It was close to 5:30 p.m. when the third heat was called. Patchen was ready for the last bout, which was to settle whether or not he was to score a mark after showing such wonderful speed. Both horses and drivers were cheered as they took po-sitions for the werd. Patchen was acting a little badly, and two attempts were made to get away before both animals were wall on their gait. It was a great start but Patchen was moving at a gait that sent Robert J. into the air. This was while going to the quarter, and the break was a bad one. Geers brought him to his feet very quickly, and it was not a second before he was chasing the him black. fore he was chasing the big black. Patchen passed the quarter in 0:30%, was moving with great precision, slowly creeping up on his antagonist, and, by the time the three-quarters was reached, bad recovered two lengths of his lost ground.

Patchen was going at a clip that looked s though he would carry the heat, but was seen to waver half way down the stretch, though he did not leave his feet Robert J. moved up slowly but surely, and took advantage of the swerve made by the black. Geers let him move out as much as he would, and at the distance he had overhauled and was on even terms with Joe. Curry helped his favorite all he could, but Robert J. was not to be con-quered, and he finished the third heat in 2:04, half a length to the good. Patchen was marked at 2:05. Everybody was glad that Robert J. had that Patchen, in his brilliant performance, had not secured a recognized mark. The average time of the three heats was 2:03 3-5.

Then followed a statement of how McCullough's successor, Daniel Manning, had sacrificed his health in a successful effort to straighten out the finances, and handed to the Harrison administration a large cash balance, and how the Republicans then returned to power and dissipated the weakh. The writs that had fallen upon the country, Senator Vilas attributed to three causes, namely: The Fifty-first, or so-called Billion-dollar Congress, with all its misdeeds, its silver-purchasing laws, its McKinley projection act, and its unexampled extrawagance not only in direct appropriations, but entailing future obligations yet to be discharged.

The Sherman law was next taken up. The National Democratic Convention of 1892, he said, had accepted the designation given it by the Democrats of Wisconsin, and declared it a cowardly makeshift to 1892, he said, had accepted the designation given it by the Democrats of Wisconsin, and declared it a cowardly makeshift to ward off the loss of the electronal votes of the Western silver States. The latter had first made a demand for free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 grains of silver to equal 1 of gold, while excessive production and other causes had continually decreased the value of the white metal until in 1889 it required twenty-two grains of silver to buy one of gold, with a further fall in prospect.

til in 1889 it required twenty-two grains of silver to buy one of gold, with a further fall in prospect.

The proposition that the government should coin dollars at 16 to 1, and give them to the mine-owner who furnished the bullion implied that the value of the dollars should fall to the value of silver in it, or if the government's credit was to support it, that the government should give the silver producers the gains of coining, some 35 per cent. or more. The Fifty-first Congress, equally fearing to grant or refuse this demand, devised a compromise, equally pernicious, by which the government was compelled to purchase fifteen tons of silver bullion a month, which it had no use for, thus forcing the issue of Federal promissory notes at the rate of $4,000,000 a month. By this means the Western Republican silver States were furnished a customer at the expense of the people of the whole country. The inevitable consequences followed. The government, was set to work inflating and impairing the currency of the country. Distrust crept into the channels of business; capitalists abroad quietly pushed their American securities upon the market, and gold began making its way to foreign lands.

It was in another form, the triumph of greenbackism. The silver dollar was made a legal tender, yet silver continued to dealers of silver certificates had been issued, which the government practically bound itself to redeem in gold, because if it redeemed them in silver it dropped the currency at once to a basis of silver monometallism, while their redeription in gold would not only impose a ruinous loss, but it was practically impossible. Mr. Cleveland, on his return to the Presidency, was confronted with a treasury with $60,000,000 less money in it; with deferred and accumulated demands to be met, and appropriations to be paid during the ensuing sixteen months that are 375,000,000 greater in amount than there is revenue to meet them.

In place of the fair prosperity and universal confidence he had left behind him, he found a rising distrust, a disordered currency, with a law commanding a monthly increase of its risks; gold disappeared from the equipty, financiers taking alarm and the storm already gathering and ready to burst. The President and the Democratic party entering upon their trusts under such circumstances should have had the support of all patriotic citizens.

Senator Vilas then reviewed at length have had the support of all patriols. Senator Vilas then reviewed at length the difficulties that have been placed in the way of repealing the pernicious causes of the disasters by the Republican minority in Congress, beginning with the Sherman act down to the McKinley Jaw. The Wilson bill would have required but moderate amendment to have made it an efficient measure of reform. There was much in it, however, to give rejoicing that it has become a law, notwithstanding the successful assaults that had been made upon it by the protectionists. upon it by the protectionists.

Congressman Harter's Estimate of Tariff Taxation.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

AUBURN (N. Y.,) Sept. 6.—Democratic day at the county fair brought out a good attendance. Gov. Flower and Congressman Harter of Ohio were the speakers.

Mr. Harter said in part: "The tariff question is purely a question of taxation, and the principles which govern all other forms of taxation apply equally to it. In other words, all taxation is burdensome, and an evil generally of no small proportions. It is, however, a necessary evil, and, as a rule, it gives reasonable compensation for its existence. It is the price of government, as it represents the cost of protecting the people of a State or nation in the rights of person and property. Taxation, then, is the price of government, and unless we approve of paying more than we need for what we buy in our private capacity, we should, as intelligent citizens, object to paying any more taxes than are required to defray the actual necessities and cost of government.

"Tariff taxation is naturally a very unjust thing, inasmuch as it is collected upon what we consume, and not upon wealth, capital or what we have accumulated, Under this system a very poor man with a large family would pay a larger sum of money for the support of his family than a very rich man having no family. This is an indictment which always lies against any form of tariff taxation."

the Superior Court, Judge W. H. Hunter of Helena was nominated on the first ballot.

The platform declared for the free coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1, independent of the action of other nations. Protection and reciprocity are indorsed, and the new jariff law denounced as destructive in particular to the wool-growing industry of Montana; theral pensions and arbitration are indorsed. Resolutions recommended the further elimination of Indian reservations from the map of the State, and they believe the time is now at hand when every Indian should have and be required to live upon his allotted farm, and that all other lands, with their vast mineral, agricultural and pastoral wealth should be opened to the occupation and uses of civilized man.

A large and enthusiastic ratification meeting was held tonight, at which leading Republican orators of the State spoke.

TACOMA, Sept. 6.—About one bundred and seventy-five Prohibitionists, representing thirteen counties, assembled this morning at Chickering Hall and convened as the State Convention of the Prohibition party. Their deliberations resulted in the following nominations being made: For Congressmen, W. W. Vandusen of Spokane and B. E. Brown of Napavine. For Supreme Court Judges, John W. Peter of Dayton and O. A. Byers of Seattle. The platform indorses the initiative and referendum, and demands a non-partisan tariff commission.

PUEBLO (Colo.,) Sept. 6.—The Populist State Convention adjourned at 2:30 o'clock this morning, after completing the ticket this morning, after completing the ticket by nominating J. Warner Mills for Su-preme Judge. The platform, consisting of less than one hundred and fifty words, de-mands the free and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1; protests against the issuance of government bonds in times of peace; insists that the national govern-ment shall have exclusive control of all money issued by its authority, and de-mands the adoption of the methods of ini-tiative referendum and proportional repre-sentation.

When the convention met again, Judge William Webster of Washoe was chosen permanent chairman. The Committee on Platform asked until temorrow at 10 o'clock to report, and the convention adjourned until that hour.

MORE REPUBLICAN THAN EVER. BERLINGTON (V4.), Sept. 6.—Additional returns from all towns in the State, except one, show the majority of Woodbury for Governor will be nearly, if not quite, twenty thousand. This will be a gain over the Republican majority of 1890. The returns indicates that the next House of Representatives will contain 242 members, and that all of these will be Republicans. except mine. icans, except nine.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—There is a probability that the inside of municipal politics, as conducted in San Francisco, will be soon made public. The grand jury will be soon made public. The grand jury has summoned Max Popper, the leader of the local Démocracy, to appear before it and testify as to the charges he has made that money was paid to Supervisors to influence their action in letting contracts for sweeping the streets of San Francisco. The investigation is based on the communication of Joseph Kelly, the Democratic nomines for Congress for the Fifth District, whom Popper alleges was a go-between.

MAGNOLIA (Ark.) Sept. 8.—A sensational tragedy occurred near Kaysville, a small town just across the State line, today. Clinton Thomas, a farmer, has a fine melen crop which has been a great feast to the boys in that neighborhood. The raids of the boys became so frequent that the old man decided to put a stop to the depredations. He put polaon in some of the finest melons, and waited the results. This morning, his son Felix, George Bridges, a neighbor's son, and a man named Jacob Muir, were found dead in the patch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Four local en symblies of the Knights of Labor interested in the clothing trade struck this afternoon. About eleven thousand men and women left work. As a result of a conference held today between the committee of the Contractor' Association and that from the strikers, the former agreed to all the demands of their old employees. This agreement does not effect the action of the Knights of Labor, who struck for the same concession today. It is said 16,000 or 17,000 knights in the trade in the city, Brooklyn and Brownsville will be out at noon tomorrow.

THE BRISTOL MILL YIELDS.

NEW BEDFORD (Mass.) Sept. 6.—A break has occurred in the ranks of manufacturers, which will result in the resumption of work in all the mills here. The directors of the Bristol corporation this atternoon practically decided to start up on Monday next.

The break in the ranks of the millowners is widening. A number of them favor a compromise with the strikers and it is understood steps to this end have been taken. The manufacturers' proposition is to start up at a reduction of 5 per cent. instead of 10 per cent, the cut to be restored when he cloth market reaches 3 cents. This proposition, it is understood, the operatives have rejected, claiming that when the market reaches 3 cents, the cut to be restored when he cloth market reaches 1 cents. The only loss to Japanese, thus far, apart from casualties in battle, is that of the merchant-ship Tenkyu, a sailing-vessel of 1000 tons. She carried a cargo for the Chinese government from Yeso to Taku, and during her voyage war was declared. On arriving, in ignorance of the situation, she was seized, and her cargo confiscated. The Japanese complain of this proceeding, citing the rule of European international law, which forbids capture under similar circumstances.

law, which forbids capture under similar circumstances.

The Japanese feel deeply the imputation in Secretary Gresham's message, through the United States Minister in Tokio, that they are "levying war upon a weak and defenseless nation," but express the hope that Americans generally comprehend that their war is with China, and is waged on behalf of, not against Korea. On August 20, two high officers of the Japanese imperial household left for Korea, bearing presents from the Emperor and Empress to the King and Queen, and to the Tai-Won-Kun, the King's father.

By order of the Japanese Navy Department, torpedoes have been laid at the entrance of Yokohama and Nagasaki harbors, and no vessels are allowed to pass to or from these ports except under the guidance of pilots provided by the government.

suspended since the outbreak of active hostilities. The large fiest of the Merchants' Steam Navigation Company is lying idle at the wharves of Shanghai and Tientsin, and no freights are accepted to or from any of the continental ports. A further obstruction to trade is anticipated in the closing by the government of the Yang-tse-Klang River.

A maritime court of inquiry at Shanghai has delivered judgment in the case of the Kow-Shung, and has acquitted the Japanese ships of blame in sinking her. Admiral Freemantle has signified to the British government his concurrence with the decision.

The position of the Chinese army in Korea is unknown. After the defeat at Selkwan and the abandonment of the intrenchments at Asan, the troops scattered in various directions, and the appearance of small bodies in different localities is mistaken by the inhabitants for the advance guard of organized forces. Reports speak of the entrance of a large corps by a land route, and of its descent toward the capital, but nothing authentic respecting its movements can be discovered. If a battle is fousty within the next error. respecting its movements can be discovered. If a battle is fought within the nex fortnight, the most trustworthy indications point to a plain in the neighborhood of Phyong-Yang, on the Dai-Dong-Yank River, as its scene. But the current con-jectures are not supported by official au-thority, and no positive intelligence as to the distribution of the Japanese army can be secured.

Great confusion may be expected in the orthography of Korean words. The written characters are prenounced in three different ways by Koreans, Chinese and Japanese.

to Peking and will sail on Saturday.

When asked as to the truth of a telegraphic rumor that he would retire from the position as Minister to China in favor of his son, Col. Denby said: "I do not intend to retire. There is no foundation for such a report. I did intend to remain longer in this country, but I have used up the two months' leave of absence allotted to me, and now that war prevails between China and Japan, the President feels that the Minister should be at Peking, and with doubt, have obtained an extension of the now existing, I feel that I should be at my post, although my son, who has charge in my absence, is perfectly competent to attend to the duties of the office and has the confidence of the administration. So far as my retiring that my son may succeed—I can settle that rumor by statin ceed—I can settle that rumor by stating that, while I am on my way back to Pe king, my son will shortly leave that city to return to America. He comes home to be married."

THINKS JAPAN SHOULD BE WHIPPED.

THINKS JAPAN SHOULD BE WHIPPED. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—Warren B. Fales, of the ship-building firm of Fales Bros., of Providence, R. I., was a passenger from the Orient on the steamer Belgic. He spent some weeks in China and Japan. Speaking of the war, he said:

"II am convinced that when China becomes theroughly aroused Japan will be badly bedten. That is the opinion not only of Europeans, but of Americans, both in the Chinese dities and in Japan, and the sympathies of the white people in the Orient are in Tayor of China. The Japanese have become so conceited and arrogant that it will do them good to be punished by China."

COASTWISE SAPEGUARDS.

COASTWISE SAFEGUARDS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6 .- According to dvices from Shanghai, by the steamship advices from Shanghai, by the ateamship Peru this morning, every effort is being made to prevent the landing of the Japanese forces in China. To that end, all fortifications are being heavily garrisoned and torpedoes are placed at the enfrance to the harbors.

Some five hundred contact torpedoes have been laid in the north channel and elsewhere about Shanghai, but they are too deep to interfere with the safety of the ordinary coasting steamers at high water. When the tide is out, however, there is but little room to spare between these torpedoes and the vessels' bottoms, and navigation is a matter of much danger.

The Japan Gazette learns that the Yoshino-Kan, the modern Japanese cruiser, which has been engaged with Chinese vessels oft saveral occasions since the commencement of the war, has not entirely eached injury, as has been reported. The Gazette says: "The Yoshino-Kan apparently fan the gauntiet of the blockade at Chemulpo, but we have it on good authority that she was heavily handled. It is safe that she is damaged below the waterline, and that, but for her double hull, the Japanese navy would have been the poorer by the loss of this magnificent cruiser."

ANTI-FOREIGNER SENTIMENT.
VIOTORIA (B. C.,) Sept. 6.—The steamship Empress has arrived from Yokohama and Hong-Kong. Capt. J. C. Coxe, a prominent sealer, was one of the passengers. He had been in Japan since February, and says that in Yokohama and Hakodate everything is quiet and orderly. He says that foreigners who go to Japan expecting to join the army or navy or secure other positions will surely be disappointed. There is a strong anti-foreign feeling, and the people will have no outsiders in any position. This rule prevails in all branches of the service, especially in the hospital and ambulance corps, which are very thorough.

GENERAL EASTERN MARKETS

Grain and Produce.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—Wheat steadied up from its tired feeling near the close today, and with good buying on the spurt finished ‰ higher for December. The other markets sympathized, and corn closed like frighter for May. September coats gained ‰, and provisions closed slightly higher all around. It was a dull day at the shart in wheat, as it was also in all the other speculative crowds. Nothing especially new or striking occurred during the forencon, and consequently the speculators had ample time to thrash over the old straw. The possibilities in the direction of substituting wheat for corn to feed stock was the only thing that kept the price from dropping off, in view of the almost total cessation of trading during what is generally the busiest time of the day. There was a sourt of activity on it becoming known that a well-known crop expert who has given his attention to the condition of the Western spring wheat crop extinated that the yield for the three States of North Dakots. South Dakots and Minnesots at not to exceed 60.000,000 bushels, basing his gettimate on the actual threshing returns. Then a tone of confidence quickly supplanted the early feeling of uncertainty, and the price of December, which had been confined all the forenoon to a range of from 56% 607%, roas with considerable vim in the trading to 57%, and sourted at the close to 57%. Today it was corn that took its cue from wheat. Some of the big local shorts have for a week made such a poor attempt at manufacturing a bear market out of a sorely mangled crop report in the West. The market was extremely dall until 12 o'clock, when it became excitedly strong. September rose from 57c, soid off to 56%, but afterward rose to 55c until within an hour of the close, when it rose in quick jumps until it was as high as 56%, and closed at 58% that kept very close to 55c until within an hour of the close, when it rose in quick jumps until it was as high as 56%, and closed at 58% to a shade firmer.

LOS ANGELES ILLUSTRATED.

A new work to be entitled "Los Angel Illustrated" is now being brought to the notice of our citizens by properly-author ized canvassers, who are provided with THE TIMES-MIRROR CO. FOR SAN PEDRO.

James McLachlan, Republican nom inee for Congress, made a brief speech before the county convention yesterday, in the course of which he himself unequivocally in favor of San Pedro as the proper site for a deep-sea harbor. He again committed himself to the support of Congressional appropriations for that object, based upon the repeated reports of army engineers in favor of the government site, declaring, in substance, that San Pedro is the logical site. His declaration was une quivocal on this point, and must be accepted as a final definition of his position on this all-important question. The Times so accepts it, and will support Mr. McLachlan's candidacy this ground. In the light of his repeated declarations on the harbor and railroad questions, we are bound to henceforth consider him no less sound on the harbor issue than his Democratic rival, Mr. Patton; while in point of sincerity, the odds, it seems to us, are with the Republican, inasmuch as Mr. Patton was not always the fierce anti-railroad man that he just now poses as being Since he ceased to be an attorney for the Southern Pacific Company he appears to have seen a great light; and since the recent Demo cratic conventions, whereat he was made the nominee of his party for Congress, that light has increased in brilliancy to something like four undred thousand-candle-power. But this point aside, we think is the interest of the people of the Sixth District to elect the Republican and leave the Democrat at home The southern district is naturally neither Democratic nor Cossack, but Republican; and this harbor business must be "panned out" in accordance with the wishes of this people and the determination of the Government of the United States, not of the Southern Pacific Company, however much we may all love the latter. it is our deliberate judgment that the corporation ought in good faith to stand aside and let the people and the government settle this question. It must ultimately be settled on lines in harmony with the large this important section of the Pacific Coast; and in the great business prosperity which is sure to accrue to all Southern California, the Southern Pacific Company is destined to share largely-more largely, we believe, than-will be the case if that powerful but not omnipotent corporation persists in attempting to control the harbor situation for its own especial

The Times desires it to be so-desires to see this great public work built on the broadest possible lines of public interest, and with the sole aim of doing the greatest good to the greatest number. Let all have their share, the railway corporations in-

Mr. Huntington should abandon his pursuit of a delusive ignis fatuus and "stand in" with the rest of us for the common good. Anyway, the first business before the house is the election of a Republican Congress-

AN OMNIBUS BALLOT.

In the Republican County Convention now sitting, one of the Pasadena delegates, Mr. Lockett, prepared, but did not introduce, a resolution substantially as follows:

Resolved, that the order of business be to amended as to read:

That the names of all candidates for the espective offices shall be placed upon one let, and be presented to this convention are its information at the same time, and in the order of precedence established.

That the socretary shall cause to be writted (in sufficient numbers) and furtished to this convention, as soon as practicable, a printed ballot containing the sames of all the candidates for the valous offices to be filled.

That when the hour for making nominations errives, each delegate shall personally deposit in a ballot-box, to be presented for that purpose, one such ballot, howing his choice for each of the respective offices to be filled.

That in case the voting shall result in so choice for any particular office, then seh office shall be immediately called in a proper order for a separate ballot.

This is, we believe, similar to a lan of voting in use by the Alof voting in use by the Al-any county (Pa.) Republicans, is practical, direct, fair and expeditious, and tends to lessen jobbery and trading. We should like to sea it tried in some future convention, after due notice and discussion.

THE CONVENTION.

The Republican County Convention continued its work of making a ticket yesterday, and held up well in the quality of the material furnished until the assessorship was reached, when Theodore Summerland was se lected over F. Edward Gray and J. W Hinton-a nomination not eminently fit to be made, considering the timber from which the selection could have been made. Thomas E. Newlin of Whittier was named for County Clerk, Thomas J. Fleming of Los Angeles for Treasurer, Theodore Summerland of Los Angeles for Assessor, C. F. Bicknell of Los Angeles for Auditor and E. C. Hodgman of Los Angeles for Recorder.

The proceedings were practically devoid of incident, the only break in the routine being the speech of Mr. Me-Lachlan, the Congressional nominee, who defined his position on the railroad question and declared unequivocally in favor of San Pedro for the deep-sea harbor. The convention will probably close its labors this evening. for, while the interest has been well sustained, the country delegates are becoming anxious to get home, and will probably insist on rushing the ousiness through.

Republicans, and an attempt to bolster up the tottering cause of the Democracy in national politics, by shifting to Re can shoulders the responsibility for the evils under which the country has suffered came into power. Among other things h eft a surplus of some $60,000,000, which the succeeding Republican administration bad dissipated, leaving a legacy of inade quate revenue. But he forgot Cleveland, shortly before the close of his first term, appealed to Congress to reduce the surplus, which he frantically referred to as a terrible evil and a menace to the prosperity of the country. The Republican administration which followed reduced the surplus revenue safely to the needs of the government, and had that party remained in power, the revenues would have been ample during the past two years to have met all expenses—and that without cutting off the pensions of Union veterans, as the Democratic administration has done. plains so pathetically, was the product in large part of the persistent Democrati ids for fuller recognition of silver Mr. Vilas's speech, so far as appears from the telegraphic report, was a mass of sophisms. But it was evidently a good

One of the many sad features of the for est fires in the northern lumber regions is the fact that thousands of cattle, horses, the fire having destroyed all vegetation in the region over which it swept. Although the human survivors have been supplied with food, there is no relief for these poo animals, which are thus doomed to d slow starvation—a fate more terrible, if possible, than death by fire. Modern civilzation, it would seem, should be able to devise some means to prevent the annual recurrence of these devastating fires which are for the most part the result of gross carelessness in their beginnings.

The treasury receipts for July and Au gust have so far increased that instead of the estimated deficit of $18,000,000, there is a surplus of receipts over expenditures of about $7,000,000. This improved condition is due almost wholly to the largely increased receipts during the latter part of August from oustoms and internal taxes, due to the passage of the new tariff bill. Millions of dollars' worth of goods which had been held in bond for months were sed so soon as the new law was passed, thus swelling the government's recelpts to enormous proportions. Whether siderable length of time is problematical.

Fresno has taken hold of the tramp question in earnest, and proposes to put in jail all the lazy vagabonds found in that vicinity who refuse to work and yet claim the right to eat. The idea is a good one. Men who are willing to work, yet are unable to obtain employment, are entitled to sympathy and assistance; but those who refuse to work when work is offered them are not entitled to consume the products of other men's labor. As men of this kind are convicted of vagrancy they should be put at work building good reads, or at some other equally useful employment which will prevent their getting gout or dyspepsia.

The track performances of Nancy Hanks, bles that were accounted wonders in their day, have been eclipsed by the pacer Robert J. This horse went one mile at Indianapolis yesterday in 2:02½, the fastest heat ever trotted or paced.

It is reported that many of the forest dres in Northern Michigan and Wisconsin were purposely set by men who knew that the scorched pine would have to be cut soon, thus giving them work. If this re-port prove true, and the miscreants can be caught, it is not unlikely that Jo will be called upon to try some cases. If anything can be said in of Judge Lynch's tenure of office would seem to be a case wh argument is needed.

Says the Santa Cruz Sentinel: "It was gratifying to observe that the audience received with extraordinary enthusiasm the utterances of Mr. Estee on the railroad issue during his recent speech in this city. When he declared himself in tayor of government ownership of the roads, a quick, vigorous and spontaneous cheer made the pavilion fairly ring. There could be no mistake about the neous cheer made the pavilion fairly ring. There could be no mistake about the views of that audience on the great and important railroad question."

It was Miss Hampton's first appearance in the role, but there was not a trace in her playing to reveal the fact; she was sweet, womanly and tender, and in the great scene with Brabazon in the third act the house rose at her and gave the charming lady such a round of applause as but rarely greets a player before a climax. It was a wonderful bit of impassioned acting, vivid with fire and force and eplendid to a degree—in fact her impersonation of the pear was one of the great successes of this artistically successful engagement.

At a meeting of the commission last night, Niggle, who is a Republican, moved Rogers's removal, and the appointment of Police Captsin Hogle to succeed him. The Mayor removed Niggle for cause, the cause being that he had tried to induce the Chief to allow prostitutes to occupy the houses owned by his employer, J. F. McNaught. Cheasty then moved Rogers's removal, and was seconded by Reife. The Mayor then asked for Cheasty's and Reife's resignations. falling far short of expectations in the

be less than at any time for the past three years, and that there will be no

CUMBERIJAND (Md.,) Sept. 6.—Great' excitement was caused here by the discovery of a case of sporadic or Asiatic cholera among immigrants from Bremen en route to Pittsburgh. The cman, John Peter Walther, was so ill that he could not walk. He was removed from the train to the immigrant-house, and later to a pest house outside the city limits. He landed in New York yesterday.

Other emigrants were sent to Pittsburgh in a closed car, and the authorities notified. The health physician, Dr. Duke, is in charge of the sick man, and the State Board of Health will make bacterial ex-aminations today.

THE MAN DIED.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 6.—The emigrant car from which the suspected victim of cholera was taken at Cumberland is now

idetracked at Shauer station, a few mile sidetracked at Shauer station, a tew miles from here, on the Baltimore and Ohlo. Nine emigrants are confined in the car. The health officers think the man who died was suffering from cholera morbus, or cholerine. To avoid any risk, however, the car will be kept in quarantine another twenty-four hours at least.

OFFICIAL ACTION.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6. — A telegram was received tothey by Surgeon-General Wyman of the Marine Hospital Service, from Health Officer Duke of Cumberland, Md., announcing the death there last night of John Walther, a German immigrant, with symptoms of Asiatic cholera. Dr. Wyman wired the officer to hold a postmertem examination and report the result. Dr. Wyman swid: "I do not believe this main died of Asiatic cholera. There is now no cholera in Bremen, the port from which he is said to have come. There is now no cholera in Bremen, the port from which he is said to have come. There is no disease among the other emigrants on the car detained at Pittsburgh."

"What is the situation with reference to the disease in Europe?" was asked.

"It is rather on the increase in Russia, and is getting over into Western Europe, but so far has been confined to the most southern portions of that coast, and is most prevalent in Austria-Hungary. This has kept it away from the ports whence the emigrants come to these shores, and as there is a rigid consular inspection on that side as well as a most thorough quarantine on this, I am absolutely certain that no case has gotten into the United States this year. There have been two cases caught at quarantine, but they have not amounted to anything. It will be practically impossible for the epidemic to get in, unless there is a relaxation of vigilance on the part of the health officers and consuls. By the list of September we were practically over the worst space, and it looks as the great danger of contagion is past."

No Bitle correspondence has been carried on by the Secretary on this subject of irrigation, tending in the same direction. In a letter to Edward Chase, president of the congress, written March 3, Secretary Morton says: "The farmers complain now of overproduction, and why they should petition the government to make appropriations to fertilize arid lands with water and beget still further production, I am at a loss to determine, Readly, the farmer who asks the government for an appropriation with which to irrigate the arid lands and sub-arid regions, petitions the government to tax him so as to create some competitors for him in the markets of the world." ted Press Leased-wire Service.

THE SUPREME COURT

Several Opinions Received for Filing.

The Judgment of Judge Shaw in the Jones Railroad Case Affirmed.

The Reasons for This Action Se Forth at Length—Five Other Cases are Disposed of by the Higher Court.

The Supreme Court has affirmed the judgment of Judge Shaw forfetting the right-of-way of the defendant in the case of John P. Jones et al. vs. the Los Angeles and Pacific Railway Company, for the reasons set forth in the following brief opinion, which was accompanied by five others relating to the cases hereinafter mentioned, from this, Santa Barbara and San Diego counties:

mentioned, from this, Santa Barbara and San Diego counties:

John P. Jones et al. (respondents) vs. the Los Angeles and Pacific Railway Company (appellant.) This action was brought by plaintiffs to declare forfeited a certain right-of-way granted by them to the Los Angeles County Railroad Company, the predecessor in interest of the defendant, upon the ground that certain conditions subsequently attached to the grant had upon the ground that certain conditions subsequently attached to the grant had not been complied with. Defendant interposed a general demurrer to the complaint, which was overruled by consent, and an answer filed. The defendant did not appear at the trial, and plaintiff had judgment, from which defendant appeals. The only question presented is as to the sufficiency of the complaint. The demurrer being general, the fact that it was overruled by consent is immaterial.

One of the conditions of the grant of the easement was the erection and construcnt was the erection and construc tion of the road on the line designated, and the operation of the road when constructed.

The second condition was that the company should establish two stations on the line granted, the particular points of each of said stations to be selected by the parties of the first part (the plaintiffs herein.)
It is further provided in the agreement that, upon the completion of the road. It should be operated continuously and withnout interruption; and again, if the corporation should "at any time hereafter cease to operate said railway, or fail or refuse to keep the same in good order and condition.

. then the grant hereby made and all rights thereunder shall cease and determine." tion of the road on the line designated, and . then the grant hereby made and all rights thereunder shall cease and determine."

The complaint alleges breaches of the foregoing conditions, to the effect that said stations were not established, nor the station-houses built at the places mentioned, or at any place selected by the plaintiffs herein, or at any place at all, and, as to the other conditions, it is alleged "that neither the defendant nor the Los Angeles County Railroad Company, upon the completion of said railroad, operated the same continuously, or without interruption, so as to accommodate the transportation of freight and passengers between the city of Los Angeles and the town of Santa Monies, but, on the contrary, said railroad has not been operated at all, . . and has not been operated at all, . . . and has never left or received passengers or freight in the usual manner of first-class railroad lines, or at all, at any such stations, and that, defendant has long ceased to operate haid railroad, and has failed and refused to keep the same in good order and condition, but has allowed the same to become completely out of repair, and has altogether failed to comply with any of the conditions of said agreement."

The complaint is not well drawn, but, in the absence of a special demurrer, we think it sufficient to state a cause of action. Taking its allegations together, it may be fairly construed as alleging the completion of the road, and, assuming that fact to be sufficiently stated, its remaining allegations are entirely sufficient in charging breaches of various conditions of the agreement berefetors quoted.

For the foregoing reasons it is ordered that the judgment be affirmed.

CITHEER OPINIONS.

OTHER OPINIONS.

Ellen D? Raymond (respondent) vs. George W. Glover et al., and the German-Ameri-can Savings Bank (appellant.) Action for can Savings Bank (appellant.) Action for a decree that a certain note and mortgage were accepted, taken and held by George Munroe as plaintiff's trustee and were so held by said bank, or that she has a vendor's lien upon a certain tract of land in this county which she agreed to sell to the Glovers for $1800, for the balance due thereon, Munroe, who acted as her agent in the transaction, having fraudulently made the note and mortgage running and payable to himself instead of to his principal.

Cause remanded with instructions to find whether or not the bank took the note as security without notice of the facts tend-ing to show its invalidity. This fact may be dound upon the evidence already taken, with such further evidence upon that subject as the parties may see fit to submit. By the court finds for the appellant upon that subject, plaintiff should be allowed a preferred lien for $1300, and interest, as provided in the contract of sale, and the bank should be allowed to retain the lien of its mortgage subject to plaintiff's lien, to the extent of its debt against Munroe.

of its mortgage subject to plaintiff's lien, to the extent of its debt against Munroe.

Joseph Honton, administrator, etc., (appellant) vs. R. E. Jack et al. (respondents.) Action to recover possession of certain personal property, valued at $6000, belonging to the estate of James A. Brown, deceased, of Santa Barbara. Judgment of non-suit in favor of the First National Bank affirmed; but the judgment and order in favor of defendant Jacks are reversed.

H. G. Dow (appellant) vs. Arthur G. Nason et al. (respondents.) The pleadings, findings and briefs do not present the facts of this case with remarkable clearness. It appears, however, that the $5000 note made by Archur G. Nason and H. W. Nason, which is the subject of this action, was pledged as security for the payment of certain other promissory notes; and the pivotal point in the case is whether or not these last notes were paid. The court found they were not paid; and while the evidence upon the point leaves the matter somewhat in doubt, we do not think it so weak as to warrant us in saying that it does not support the finding. And this being so, there is no ground for disturbing the judgment. Judgment affirmed.

W. E. Baines vs. Babcock and Story (appellants) and the West Coast Lumber Company et al. (respondents.) Action in the nature of a creditor's bill in equity to subject equitable assets of the San Dilego Street-car Company to the satisfaction of a judgment against it in favor of plaintiff, which resolved itself into a controversy solely between interveners and two of the defendants. Judgment reversed, and cause remanded for a new trial.

Flora J. Paden (respondent) vs. Simon Goldbaum et al. (appellants.) Action to replevin certain personal property alleged to have been tillegally attached under the false pretense that it belonged to plaintiff, which resolved itself into a controversy solely between interveners and two of the defendants. Judgment and order appealed from affirmed.

WEATHER AND CROPS

Regular Weekly Report for Southern California. Following is the weather and crop report of the Weather Bureau for the week ending September 3: The excessive heat of the previous week ending September 3:

The excessive heat of the previous week was followed during the earlier portion of the week just closed by a daily moderating temperature, though still in excess of the usual summer conditions, and at the close by a return to the normal conditions for the season, except in the interior, where the weather remained warm. Light rain fell in several localities without doing injury, otherwise the weather was generally fair with some foggy mornings in the coast districts, which were of benefit to beans that otherwise would have suffered from the very warm weather. Fruits ripened rapidly under the influence of the high temperatures and good weather, but walnuts were damaged by the hot winds burning the husk; grapes were also injured to some extent in the southern districts. Detailed reports follow:

San Luis Obispo county—San Luis Obispo: A light rain fell on the mornin of the 29th of August. Prunes are being gathered and show a good average yield and fine flavor. The highest temperature was 98 deg., and the lowest 54; the sunshine was normal. Musick: Early in the week it was very hot, 104 deg. in the shade; the latter part was cooler with some fog. Grain crop all harvested, with a good average yield. The fruit crop is now being harvested, it is plentiful but small.

Ventura county—Bardsdals: The weather was shormally hot and sulfry, but fogs generally prevailed at night, so beans—were not hurt; they are ripening fast.

Los Angeles county—Pasadena: The warm wave of the 25th lasted till the 30th, with violent storms in the mountains, making it more sultry than ever known before; it was followed by a cool, foggy spell, which continues. Peaches mostly dried, late ones only remaining. Maximum temperature 105½ deg.; minimum 55 deg. Duarte: Fruit-drying contains, making it more sultry than ever known before; it was followed by a cool, foggy spell, which continues. Peaches mostly dried, late ones only remaining. Maximum temperature 105% deg.; minimum, 58 deg. Duarte: Fruit-drying continues, prunes first-class quality-better than ever before. The temperature was about normal the forepart of the week, with thunder showers in the mountains, the last three nights were foggy. Maximum temperature, 102 deg.; minimum, 62 deg.; rainfall, .02 inch.

Riverside county—Riverside: Grape picking is progressing in this vicinity, and helpers are being sought after. Moreno: The weather has been hot and sultry, with mountain clouds in the afternoons. The peach crop is good, but ripening very fast; grapes are late, especially raisin grapes. A light shower of rain fell on August 25. Maximum temperature, 99 deg.; minimum, 58 deg.

Orange county—Santa Ana: The hot wind of August 25 very seriously injured walnuts. It is estimated that duly one-third of the crop is injured. A very large prune crop is being dried. The weather was cooler, but not as good for fruit-drying as when warm sunshine prevails. Tustin: The hot blast of August 25 was followed by a return to normal summer conditions.

cooler, but not as good for fruit-drying as when warm sunshine prevails. Tustin: The hot blast of August 25 was followed by a return to normal summer conditions. Walmuts suffered some damage from the hot spell; corn is doing well, but was blown down some. Peaches are yielding largely; prunes are a moderate crop, but are of good size and quality; both crops are being dried. Fullerton: The hot wind of August 25 injured wainuts to some extent; the loss is chought to be 8 per cent. Oranges were not furt. Capistrano: The highest temperature was 89 deg.; lowest, 70 deg.; sunshine, normal.

San Diego county—Falibrook: The temperature was unusually high and fruit ripened rapidly. Suitans grapes are being picked and muscats will be put on the trays soon. Some grapes in exposed places were burned by the hot wind of August 25, but no material damage was done; we have no high winds. Bernardo: A mortheast wind prevailed on August 25, and some fruit was damaged by Himbs breaking. There was a strong east wind on Sunday night with some rain, which threshed considerable fruit and broke many trees. Well are extremely low and a scarcity of water for stock and irrigation is delt in some places. San Diego city: The temperature was 6 deg. below the normal and the rainfall and sunshine normal for the week. Warm weather prevailed the first of the week, but during the latter part cooler and continuous cloudy weather occurred which were poor conditions for drying fruit, but which is progressing slowly in spite of the cloudy weather. Fruit is plentiful and cheap. Grapes are now in market and are of good quality.

ODAY we show new Fall Millinery. When you the $1 jackets for schoolgirls you will wonder at quality for the price. The trade yesterday on them was s that anyone could ask or expect. Today the trade will ! better as the quality becomes better known. It will of you nothing to see them; you are sure to buy. Still if y want something better we have a small line for $2 a $2.50 each; they are the odds and ends we have left in th big Cloak Department; all the odds and ends must go some price. A few more Delineators at 5c per copy, September number. A bale or two of brown muslin at 6 a yard; worth (examining. A few more pair of gents' smal size kid gloves for 50c a pair; suitable for ladies' driving and working gloves; this will be the last time they will b mentioned in our advertising; we expect to sell the lot today. We have a little lot of stand covers; the prices today will be one-half what they were yesterday. A little lot of curtain materials; they go down to half-price. We are hunting out all the odd lo in every line of goods. The price is made to sell them, and in every instance you secure the goods very much unde cost. Ladies' Shirt Waists reduced 33 and 50 per cent. close out every Waist in stock. One lady came in and bought one of the dollar Jackets early yesterday morning. At noon she came back and bought another, and just be fore closing she bought the third garment, remarking tha the second was better than the first, and she was sure the last garment was still better than either ef the others. and so it went on all day yesterday in the Big Cloak Department. Every last year's Cloak must go. The price will make them move, and you are the gainer. As long as the improvement is so noticeable in trade we can afford to sacrifice the odd lots, as the large increase in trade from this cause more than makes up the loss in the large sales in the better class of goods. Everybody is now doing a better business than they did a year ago. The past week has shown a wonderful increase. This September is sure to be 50 per cent. greate than a year ago. There is every indication pointing to this one result. We are again on the top wave of prosperity in Los Angeles. Come in today and take a look at the dollar School Jackets.

The nomines for Congress, James Mc-Lachlan, was in the hall, and Chairman Allen asked it it was the desire that be be brought before the convention. There were many cries of "yes," and amid great cheering McLachlan came forward and made a short speech. He told of his experiences while on a political trip through Ventura, and talked earnestly for a few moments before the next nomination for County Auditor was made Mr. McLachlan said that he was opposed to the railroad monopoly and the supporting of the same by the government. He declared against granting any further time to the Union and Central Pacific railroads on their bonded indebtedness, and favored proceedings looking to the settlement of the same. On the harbor question, Mr. McLachlan declared unequivocally in favor of San Pedro, which he declared was the logical site for a deep-water harbor for Southern California, two separate boards of government engineers having declared in its favor after a most careful and thorough investigation, during which soundings were made and all available information was secured. The references to San Pedro were received with applause and at the conclusion of his remarks three cheers were given for McLachlan with a will.

E. C. HODGMAN NAMED FOR THE RECORDERSHIP.

OURDERSHIP.

The delegates assembled quite promptly in the evening at so 'clock, and nominations for County Recorder were declared in order without delay.

James C. Reeves of Downey nominated Sherman Smith.

While John Roberts of Long Beach was making a nomination speech for Arthur Bray, he referred to the latter as a "true American."

Some one in the lobby called out, "he is not."

The interruption angered the chairman, who ordered "expel the man who made that remark."

The sergeant-at-arms failed to find the obstreperous person, and this angered the chairman still more. He then exclaimed "if the lobby does not divulge the name of the man, put the lobby out also."

This created a small breeze, and objection was raised. Men in the rear of the hall insisted that the intruder had gone down stairs.

Chairman Allen was firm, however, and he submitted the question to the house and then withdrew his order for the clearing of the lobby.

Roberts of Long Beach continued his speech without further sinoyance.

Maj. W. C. Furrey of the Third Ward named W. F. X. Parker, and Walter Haas nominated T. F. Laycock.

The first ballot gave Hodgeman 128 votes; Parker, 102; Smith, 126; Laycock, 52; Bray, 101. There was no choice, 255 votes being required to elect.

Second ballot—Total number of votes cast, 506; necessary to a choice, 254; Hodgeman, 1874; Smith, 124; Parker, 72; Bray, 9314; Laycock, 29.

In the interim petween the taking of the second and the third ballots, G. H. Stewart of the Third Ward moved that when the convention adjourn it adjourn to meet at 2 o'clock today, in order that delegates might have an especianity to go up on the special train to meet Mr. Estee.

The motion was voted down.

Nominations for County Clerk were than made. Bird of the Fourth Ward nominated U. S. G. Todd of Monrovia, S. C. Hubbell nominated J. M. Dunsmoor, H. Moore named J. H. Martin, W. T. Williams mounted a chair to place in nomination Frank E. Lowry, Louis Gottschalk offered the name of J. A. Kelly, Gibert Overton nominated C. W. Blake, H. A. Plerce named W. H. Seamans, Burke, G. Rivera nominated T. E. Newlin.

The nominations were here closed and the first ballot was taken.

It was necessary that the winning man secoive 254 votes, and there was no choice on the first count, for Lowry received 13 votes; Newlin, 119; Dunsmoor, S. Martin, 74; Blake, 29; Todd, 45; Kelly, G. Seamans, 34.

Dunsmoge's name was withdrawn, and his narrowed down the contest somethat.

Lowry lost slightly on the second ballot, but again there was no choice. Lowry restewed 171 votes; Newlin, 190; Martin, 91; Fodd, 29; Kelly, 4.

Todd's name was withdrawn, as were those of W. H. Stamans and L. A.

mittee—Political Pointers.

Chairman del Valle has appointed the following as members of the Democratic State Central Committee: B. D. Murphy of San Jose, Denis Spencer of Napa, T. C. Coogan of Alameda, B. V. Sargent of Montercy, C. Last of Los Angeles, Robert Thompson of Santa Rosa, J. J. Dwyer of San Francisco, J. D. Sproul of Butte, Herman Levy of Fresno, R. P. Troy of Marin.

In this connection the San Francisco Examiner of Wednesday says:

"The appointments of the chairman of the State convention were eminently satisfactory to James H. Budd, and, aithough the candidate for Governor was accorded the privilege of naming twenty, he decided not to do so. He is of the opinion that he should have no more right to appoint twenty committeemen than any other candidate on the ticket, and is satisfied that those already selected will conduct the campaign in a brainy, business-like and successful manner.

"The Finance Committee of five, which will handle all the funds used in the campaign, will be selected when the Estate Central Committee meets Friday afternoon in the State Democratic clubrooms, in the Flood building.

"Denis Spencer, J. J. Dwyer, B. D. Murphy and Gavin McNab are talked of for chairman."

Political Pointers

The Seventh Ward Republican will meet at Operahouse Hall Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, preparatory to taking part in the Estee parade. Mr. Estee will arrive in town with the Jonathan Club special train tomorrow afternoon, and be presented to the convention, if it is then in session.

presented to the convention, if it is then in session.

In the report of the ballot on Sheriff, as announced in the Republican convention Wednesday evening, a slight error occurred, when it was said that Burr received 360 votes to Cline's 210. The figures really were 366 to 210.

The new Republican County Central Committee will meet this morning and organize. There are several candidates for the secretaryship, among whom are George Beebe of the Eighth Ward, C. B. Tidball and A. B. Conrad the present secretary. Secretary Conrad's work has been very satisfactory, and it is acknowledged also that Messrs. Beebe and Tidball are well qualified to fill the position.

When the license tax was removed from other lines of business, the wholesale liquor dealers thought they should be treated in the same way, and have since been trying to convince the members of the City Council that they should not be discriminated against. They will now probably test the case in the courts.

PREPARING FOR A BIG MEETING AT THE WIGWAM.

Twenty New Store Rooms in the City - Business Keeping Up With Population-A Long Voyage Ended.

PASADENA, Sept. 6.—(Special Correspondence.) An observant visitor in Pasadema, in commenting on the large number of new buildings now in process of construction in this city, expressed an opinion that too many business-houses were being built, and doubted if tenants could be found for them all. The Times reporter quoted his remarks to one of the best-posted real estate men in the city, who said emphatically: "Why, sir, there won't be a vacant storeroom in Pasadena this fall. All these new rooms are needed—even more will be filled before winter." The real estate agents ought to know that they are talking about when they say that there is not only a crying need. The real estate agents ought to know what they are talking about when they may that there is not only a crying need of many more little dwelling-houses, but a demand for the new storerooms now being made ready for the tenants. In the very center of Pasadena the new storerooms not yet ready for occupancy are: Five in the Hansen, Torrance and Wood-Block, corner of Colorado street and Raymond avenue; four in the Vandevort Block, next to 4t on Raymond; three in the Braley building, just opposite; three in the Caswell building, corner Colorado and De Lacy; one in the Bartlett building, on Colorado; one in the Bartlett building, on North Fair Gaks; three in the Ross Block, corner of Fair Oaks and Union, with others yet that are planned. It is stated that tenants are already secured for some of these, and others were built on the demand of previous occupants of the premises, to secure room for growing business. With a steadily-increasing population there naturally follows an augmentation of business and business-houses.

THE RECEPTION TO MR. ESTEE.

Great preparations are being made for the reception to the Hon. M. M. Estee, Republican candidate for Governor, Friday. The Pasadena committee that will go up the road to meet Mr. Estee will comprise Mayor Lukens, Capt. Simpson and Capt. Drake, who will leave here for that purpose at noon Friday, and expect to return with the guest about 4 p.m. Upon his arrival an informal reception will be tendered him at the Hotel Green. The speaking at the wigwam will begin at 8 p.m. sharp. Large additions have been built on the speakers' stand platform, to accommodate fully eighty people in chairs, and canvas awnings have been suspended over that end of the wigwam to cut of the draft. Good music will be one feature of the programme. There should be and will be a great attendance of representative Pasadena citizens, regardless of politics. GOSSIP OF CHICAGO PEOPLE.

Tuesday afternoon a youth by the name of Smith; from Downey, who is stopping with friends from Bakersfield on the South Side, met with a painful accident at the Crystal Plunge. He was bathing, and, in tumbling from the trapeze, struck the back of his head upon the springboard. He went to the bottom like a rock. Although immediately taken from the water, his lungs were full of it, and he spit up considerable blood. An ugly gash was cut in his head, but prompt attention put him in the way of an early recovery, and moserious termination of the mishap is anticipated.

About a week ago a somewhat similar mishap occurred at the same place, but attracted little attention at the time. Another youth by the hame of Breckenridge struck the water on his back, and was somewhat stunned. He went to the bottom, and in the fall somehow got a bruise on his head. Neither injury was dangerous of itself, but the case has been complicated by cerebro-spinal meningitis, and he is a very sick boy.

SANTIA ANA, Sept. 6.—(Special Corresopndence.) Christian Hoffman, an ablebodied marine from the warship Bennington, is visiting his brother-in-law, Jacob Mueller, near this city. Mr. Hoffman was seen today by a Times representative to whom he related the story of that ship's latest cruise—to San Salvador to protect the interests of the United States in the late rebellion in-that country. Mr. Hoffman stated that the Bennington left San Francisco last May and arrived at Libertad, San Salvador, the last of that same month. The Bennington was the only war vessel there and as soon as the rebels forced the native troops down to Libertad from the capital and then routed the officers of that town, killing a number of them in the conflict, the Bennington sent a squad of its soldiers ashore to protect the American consul. This squad was soon reinforced by two companies of marines from the ship, who then took possession of the town, consisting of about 2000 inhabitants, and held the fort, assuming the government and protecting the fiscing officers, who sought refuge on board the Bennington. Subsequently, twelve of the seventeer officers of the San Salvadoran government were pardoned by the rebels and they were shlowed to go ashore. The other dive, however, one of which was the President of the little republic, Ereta, was threatened with death of they again set foot on San Salvadoran soil, so the Bennington brought them to San Francisco where they are now under arrest by the United States suthorities. The rebels claim that President Ereta has looted the public treasury of about 3,000,000, and they propose to have his scaip if it is possible to obtain it.

Mr. Hoffman is well pleased with Southern California and thinks if he ever own a home on land he would like to have it in the Sants Ana Valley. But he prefers the on the high sea on board of one of Uncle Sam's warships. He has been with the Bennington now for four years and is well pleased with the treatment he receives at the bands of the Bortament. He will leave Sunday

ORANGE REPUBLICANS.

The Republicans of the fittle junction city of Orange met Tuesday evening in College Hall, that city, and proceeded to organize an auxiliary to the Orange County Republican Club. The meeting was called to order by Vice-President E. W. Hardy of the county club, who explained the aims and objects of the proposed club. S. M. Craddick was selected temporary chairman and M. P. Chubb temporary secretary. The members present unanimously resolved to organize a ciub, and a committee, consisting of Messrs. S. Armor, J. A. Whitaker and C. Chandler, was appointed on permanent organization and order of business. The committee will! report at the next meeting of the club. Speeches were then called for from a number of those present, during which the membership roll was circulated for signatures. Almost, every one present signed the roll, and all seemed enthusiatic over the political outlook in this county, yet it was thought best that no stone should be left unturned to secure complete Republican success at the political county and the club will be held Friday evening, September 14. The temporary Committee on Membership, Messrs. Craddick, Chubb and Hardy, will circulate the roll of membership for signatures uptil the date of the next meeting, when k will be expected that there will be a large turnout of the voters, not only of Orange, but of this entire portion of the county. The Republicans of Villa Park, Olive, McPaerson, El Modens and other icoalities are especially invited to be present. ORANGE REPUBLICANS.

The Fullerton Union High School opened the start that it has made is, indeed, an and that its future at this time is, indeed, very bright.

WOULDN'T LET HIM GO.

Deputy United States Marshal Goodrich came down to Santa Ana Wednesdy afternoon from Los Angeles with a warrant for the arrest of Pedro Alvares, the Mexican cattle thief arrested a week ago by Detective Insley down near Tia Juana, who, it seems, has been indicted by the United States Federal Grand Jury for smuggling goods over the line into Mexico, and vice versa. But when Mr. Goodrich asked for the prisoner he was informed by Under-sheriff Buckley that Orange county had the prisoner now for an offense committed in this county, and notwithstanding the fact that the United States count wanted him, he thought the prisoner had better remain here until this county was through with him. This proposition did not meet with the approval of the United States Marshal, but as there seemed to be nothing else for him to do but return to Los Angeles empty-handed, he therefore boarded the north-bound evening train, but not before assuring the officers here that he would be back in a few days for his man. He may be back, but Alvarez is still in the Orange county jail.

SANTA ANA BREVITIES.

The Chamber of Commerce directors met Wednesday evening in regular session in the office of the secretary but little business was transacted. The secretary reported that almost a hundred jars had been filled with fruit for exhibition purposes, and the matter of testing the beets experimentally grown in this neighborhood was put in the hands of the president and secretary. The secretary was instructed to ascertain what arrangements could be made with the telegraph company for furnishing weather bulletins during the winter months.

Jose Maria Garcia, the Mexican from Oftwe, who was arrested a few days ago as an accomplice of Pedro Alvares in cattlestealing on the San Joaquin ranch, was an accomplice of Pedro Alvares in cattlestealing on the San Joaquin ranch, was released today, as it was evident that he was innocent of the crime with which he was charged. Garcia is a regular employee of the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Company, and Superintendent Gardner today produced evidence to the District Attorney that Garcia was innocent, that was sufficient to justify his release.

The jury in the case of the People vs. John O'Connor and Frank White, charged with burglarizing a winery near this city a few menths ago, brought in a verdict today of "not guilty" after being out only about ten minutes. The defendants were released, and as they were not residents of this city or county, they lost no time in shaking the dust of the county from their, feet.

Inez, the eight-monthe odd child of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Burbank of Olive, died today of pneumonia. The funeral will be held tomorrow, Friday, at the family residence, at 10 o'clock a.m., and interment will be made in the Santa Ana Cemetery.

RIVERSIDE COUNTY.

MEETING OF THE CITIZENS CONVENTION AT PERRIS.

A Platform Adopted and a Ticket Nominated—The Refunding School Bond Election-News Notes.

PERRIS, Sept. 6.—(Special Dispatch:)
The Citizens' County Convention met in Evyln Hall in this city today, with an attendance of 350 delspates. All who signed the call for the convention were eligible as delegates. Joseph Jarvis of Riverside was made temporary chairman, and J. W. was made temporary chairman, and J. W. Nance of Perris permanent chairman, and E. Johnson secretary. The platform denounces the domination of county politics by Republicans, "views with alarm" the control of the officers by the banks, and the subsidizing of the public press by political rings, denounces the present Assessor for increasing the valuation, and for extravarance in office, and the Supervisors litical rings, denounces the present Assessor for increasing the valuation; and for extravagance in office, and the Supervisors for approving bills for deputies for illegal acts, for gross partisanship, etc., fawors restricting the powers of the expenditure of public money by the Supervisors, the repeal of the law-library act, the consolidation of county offices upon economical lines, and economy in all offices, the retention of colders in the public service, favors the appointment of a committee to examine and audit public expenditures, and the appointment of property-owners and heads of families for deputies, opposes the persecution of the poor or vagrants, denounces the assessment of irrigation district lands at full value without deducting the bonded indebtedness, approves the submission of county ordinances to a popular vote, and the Hquor-prohibiting ordinance to a vote of the people.

A. L. Bartlett of Riverside was nominated for Superior Judge, W. B. Johnson of San Jachto for Sheriff, A. J. Cendee, incumbent, of Moreno for Clerk; Muditor, G. W. Fox, incumbent; Recorder, S. H. Guthekunst of Riverside; Tax Collector, John' C. Woodard; District Attorney, Charles R. Gray of Riverside; Assessor, John' T. Jarvis of Riverside; Treasurer, James Patterson, Jr., of Perrs.

RIVERSIDE. RIVERSIDE, Sept. 6.—(Special Correspondence.) Interest in the voting for $10,000 school bonds to refund at a lower rate of interest the bonds falling due this year, and the $3000 special tax for the purrate of interest the bonds falling due, this year, and the $3000 special tax for the purpose of keeping the city schools open for the full school year, seemed to languish some toward the last, and some anxiety was manifested lest the election yesterday would result in the defeat of the laudable effort to keep the schools in a first-rate condition with as little burden upon the taxpayer as possible. But when the votes were counted last night, it was found that both propositions had carried by safe majorities, a two-thirds vote being required. The principal opposition to the bonds came from certain quarters, who hoped to defeat them for the purpose of making political capital out of the administration of school affairs under the disadvantage that would follow this defeat of the bonds and special tax. The vote was a light one considering the interests at stake and the sums involved. For bonds the vote was 226, to but 82 against bonds; total 308. The vote for the special tax was 206, and against the tax 97; total 303. The vote upon the special tax was very close, there being necessary to defeat it a change of but four votes from the affirmative to the negative.

RIVERSIDE BREVITIES.

Frank E. Abbott, the new postmaster of this city, received his commission Tuesday. It was signed by President Cleveland and the Postmaster-General, and dates from August 11. He has chosen for his deputy, J. G. Bayley, a property-owner here, and a man much, respected by all who know him. The only other change made in the office is that of Miss Irvine, who is given the place of Miss Miller, the latter going East.

Five new mining locations were filed on Tuesday in Recorder Gruwell's office. They are: Minnie Moore: Black Hawk, Jay Bird and Black Bird. All are situated in the Temescal Canyon. The Eagle claim is situated two and a half miles north of the Temescal postoffice. Gray Ledge is located in or near the Pacific mining district.

Henry Ohlmeyer will take the Loring Orchestra to San Diego tomorrow, where two concerts will be given, one of which will be at the Coronado Hotel on Saturday evening. RIVERSIDE BREVITIES.

SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 6.-(Special SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 6.—(Special Correspondence.) Women favorable to woman's rights propose to hold an election in this county on the 6th of November next, when ballot boxes will be especially provided for at each polling place in the county, in which all women of voting age will be requested to cast a ballot for county, and State officers. The movement is under the auspices of prominent members of the W.C.T.U. The object is to demoistrate the practicability of woman in politics and show to the rougher sex that she will vote if given an opportunity. NEW MINING COMPANY.

NEW MINING COMPANY.

The Yolande Mining and Milling Company has filed articles of incorporation, with a capital stock of $100,000. The mining claims of the new company are focated in the Panamint district and about five miles from the Redlands Gold Mining Company's rich claim. The stock in the company is owned by J. A. Mack, W. C. Philips and E. B. Walte, mostly Redlands people. It is to be hoped that this claim may not prove shallow and without depth as so many of the premising mines of this district.

REDLANDS.

REDLANDS, Sept. 6.—(Special Correspondence.) Dr. J. M. Wheat, secretary of the Board of Health of this city, is now after the Bear Valley Company for polluting the waters used for domestic purposes in this city. If the charges and a half of what is reported outside these charges, may be found to be true, the affair is a very serious one to the city. The Bear Valley Company claims some twelve hours continuous run of all water in Mill Creek every ten days, or about one-twentiet of the total flow of this watercourse. When the time arrives for the Bear Valley Company to take its water from Mill Creek, all the flow is taken by means of a flume to the Bear Valley Company's ditch and conducted to the Domestic Water Company's reservoirs. At the time this water is turned from Mill Creek into the Bear Valley Canal, an amount equal to the flow of Mill Creek is withheld from the canal above. The complaint made by the secretary of the Board of Health in his charges laid before the City Trustess is, that this water from the zanja, or Mill Creek, is polluted and unwholesome, and unfit for human consumption, containing, as it does, waste water from irrigation and water used in cleansing unclean utensils. It is said that the latter includes waste from outhouses, and other disease-breeding filth. A number of the citizens have asserted that in their belief, several cases of typhoid fever have been caused by this pollution of the domestic water, and many of the residents are following the practice of boiling all the water used for drinking purposes. The matter is a very serious one, and should be thoroughly investigated, and, if true, prompt action

Miss Mary Gridley, daughter of Police Clerk Gridley, has returned from a two months' visit with relatives in Tolorounty.

A reception will be held this evening at the residence of Mrs. R. R. Boron, Seventh and Hill streets, for the benefit of the Southern Methodist Church. The musical programme will be furnished by Miss Ethel Graham, Miss Letha Lewis, Lottle Pinkham, Jennie Graham, Daisy Austin and D. Harrison. Dainty refreshments will be served during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Beach have returned home after a two weeks' outing at Mt. Wilson.

A GOOD WORK.

A GOOD WORK.

Educating the Children of the Lower Classes.

Educating the Children of the Lower Classes.

The idea of College Settlement work has taken quite a hold on the mind of the public for the last few years, and a great deal of interest is being shown in it. The work was first heard of in London, where a few laddes of refined and cultured tastes took a house in the slums, and, furnishing it prettily but simply, lived among the degraded people, endeavoring to teach them by example, as well as precept, the principles of cleanliness and right living. Since then the work has grown to vast proportions. New York, Chicago, Boston, and all the large cities, have these settlements, and Los Angeles also has made a beginning in that line. The old part of the city, or "Sonoratown," as it is called, is perhaps inhabited by the roughest element, and it is here, on New High street, that Miss Maud Foster and a few other young ladies, who are well known in the city, have carried out an idea which, if not exactly a College Settlement, is a near approach to it. The young ladies have taken a house there, which is furnished pleasantly, and has a plano, books, and other comforts of the home, and are therevery day during certain hours, to receive those who may care to come in and enjoy it. One day in the week is for the children, who are taught to sing and read, and several other things besides. Another day is for the older girls, who come and sew. Another for the women, who are shown how to keep their houses and families clean. The boys are not left out, but also have a day. All the magazines and periodicals are there, for the use of those who may wish to see them. This is an industrial school in the broadest sense of the word. Over on Buena Vista street, Miss odicals are there, for the use of those who may wish to see them. This is an industrial school in the broadest sense of the word. Over on Buena Vista street, Miss McKee and a few assistants hold a sewing-school in the S.I.M.B. Hall every Saturday afternoon for children. It is pathetic to see the little ones come in, dirty and ragged, some of them only half clothed. They make patchwork and learn to sew on buttons, and the rudiments of this feminine art. They are of all nationalities, and it is hard to teach them, yet not one of the teachers seems to get out of patience. They are badly off for teachers at this school, for it is not a pleasant work, except to those whose pleasure lies in self-denial. Yet no one could help being touched by the eagerness of the children to learn, and the pride with which they hold up a grimy seam for inspection. Besides sewing, they are taught to sins, and take great delight in it. They are also made to understand the importance of clean hands and faces, which is perhaps the hardest of all to do. There is a good deal of room for this kind of reform in Los Angeles, and it might do people good to visit these schools and see for them-selves what is being done.
